You are laying in a row boat. Sitting up, you first see nothing but water. But you look around and eventually make out an island in the distance, with clouds looming above it.

In the middle of the plaza there is a small wooden pavilion. Towards the back of the plaza there is a tall leafy tree. Behind the tents, there is a circular track of beaten down dirt, running the whole way around the island.

pavilion

You enter the pavilion. There is a couch in the middle with a large cat lying on it. As you walk in, the cat notices you and sits up. Before you can react, he starts to speak.

"Hello! Welcome to our island!" He has a high pitched voice.

"My name is Felix and this is a festival to celebrate our god, the Great Father. Please enjoy all of the stands and events we have set up. Unfortunately, we seem to be having rather poor weather right now, so some of the events are not running... If only we could do something about this storm cloud!"

↳ "Please enjoy your time here! Perhaps you can try to beat our best runner around the track."

track

You go to the stand in charge of the track. A cat with goggles on is waiting there. There is a tortoise curled in its shell sitting on the track in the rain. "Hi there! Ready to run? We've got a real good race today, with a fantastic prize for the winner! Line up at the starting line whenever you're ready."

- line up

↳ You line up and the starting gun pops immediately. You dash around the track but your energy is quickly drained! You have to stop and lay down. When you look up again, the tortoise is crossing the finish line!

"Awful too bad! You seem to be lacking energy! Go wake up first then come try again."

- [had coffee] line up

↳ You line up and the gun pops. You dash around the whole track without stopping!

"Congratulations! You've beaten our best runner! Here's your reward."

The cat hands you a golden crown with a large pink jewel embedded at the front.

The bar is tended by a large bushy cat. He sounds like he's humming a tune but you're not really sure how because he's a cat. He's working at cleaning some dishes. "Greetings! If you've come for a drink then I'm sorry but I don't have much I can offer. See we all just had quite the party last night and drank up all of my stock! I can still make you something if you bring me ingredients, though."

- interact bar

↳ "Like I said, we're all out!"

- [picked apple] interact bar

↳ "Hey, there's something! I'll fix you a drink right away!"

The bartender disappears behind the bar and then reappears shortly after holding a big mug half full of liquid.

"There you go, the finest fresh squeezed apple juice you could find. Drink up!"
